

Painting the Lively Still Life

Three Day Oil Painting Workshop

With Karen Werner

Description:

This workshop is for beginning and intermediate students working in oil. Some drawing experience and experience painting with oils is strongly recommended. Workshop includes lecture, several demonstrations, handouts and individual coaching. You'll learn how painting small and often can improve your skills dramatically. During the workshop you'll paint small studies from your own still life set-up. Included are exercises to develop color mixing skills and fresh, confident brushwork. Still life is the perfect way to practice the four concepts emphasized throughout the workshop: shape, value, color and edges. With practice, a good grasp of these concepts will enable you to paint any subject; landscape, animals, figures, etc. Also covered: still life set up, design principles, drawing tips, lighting, and color mixing. Students bring their own supplies and equipment.
